

UniDive 1st general meeting - social events

Awakening of the birds

A few days before the World Sparrow Day (March 20th), we will observe and listen to birds in this morning walk near the University campus. How to observe them well? How to identify them by appearance and sound? What do their songs express? This walk in the middle of a forest ecosystem will bring us closer to passerines that are preparing to nest. We will also talk about birds that are gradually returning from their long migration.	Woodpecker at work	(credit Cyprienne Savary)

Visiting Paris

If this is your first time in Paris, you will probably want to visit the highlights and tons of websites will help you make your choice. The most popular museums (Louvre, Musée d'Orsay, etc.) are always crowded, take time to buy tickets online in advance.

Other places I personally like and recommend are:

- Musée de Cluny - a museum of the Middle Ages, in the very heart of Quartier Latin, with the series of tapestries "The Lady and the Unicorn".
- Richelieu Library - the old building of the French National Library, recently restored and open to public, with the amazing Oval Reading Hall and a museum with rich collections.
- Cité Internationale Universitaire de Paris - a huge area of student houses, founded in 1920-ies, with many nationalities represented by architectural design. Some famous architects contributed their projects, e.g. Le Corbusier.

If you know Paris already, you might enjoy temporary exhibitions which happen to overlap with the UniDive meeting. Here is a personal selection (credit: Benoît Goldschmidt):

- Hiroshige and the fan, a travel to the 19th century Japan - at Guimet Museum; a collection of folding fan printmaking masterpieces by Utagawa Hiroshige (1797-1858).
- Alberto Giacometti / Salvador Dali. Gardens of Dreams - an exhibition at the Giacometti Fondation about the creation of an imaginary garden in the early 1930-ies.
- Crowds (fr. /Foules/) - an exhibition at the Science and Industry Museum about phenomena related to the behaviour of crowds (fluid mechanics, granular physics, mathematics, cognitive science, social psychology, etc.)
- On the roads to Samarkand. Wonders of silk and gold - a collection of unique mastrepieces exhibited for the first time outside of Uzbekistan, at the Institute of the Arab World.
- Henri Cartier Bresson Center - two temporary exhibitions, dedicated to the American photographer Paul Strand (1890-1976) and to a photo dialogue between Helen Levitt (1913-2009) and Henri Cartier-Bresson (1908-2004).
- La Fabuloserie - 40th anniversary exhibition of the Saint Pierre's Hall, dedicated to outsider art (art brut).
- Matisse. Cahiers d'art, the pivotal 1930's - some masterpieces of Matisse from the 1930-ies, rarely shown.
- Fabrice Hyber "The Valley" - a monograph exhibition at the Cartier Fondation.
- Zanele Muholi - an exhibition dedicated to a South-African photographer and activist, documenting black LGBTQIA+ communities.
